TEACHERS READY FOR STARTING OF SCHOOL

Bell to Ring Monday Summoning Children Back to Work

MANY ENROLL TODAY

Crowded Conditions Will be Order Until New School is Finished

Summoning children from their summer's vacation, the school bell will toll Monday morning, and the grind of school work will be taken up. All the teachers are here and are prepared for the opening of school.

Somewhat enthusiastic following the week's teachers' institute the breaking into the arduous school duty will not be such a wearisome task to the teachers as it usually is. They plan to put into operation at once new ideas gained during the institution.

Today was enrollment day for beginners at the various buildings.and a number of new pupils were enrolled to take up their work on Monday. Principals received the beginners at their offices. Prof. S. R. Grim, principal of high school was at the high school building to receive new pupils for high school.

Temporarily there will exist a crowded condition in the schools. Upon the completion of the new school building on Crest avenue and Sixth street, and the removal of high school and the eighth grade, now known as the junior high school to this structure the overcrowded condition will be remedied. A number of innovations in methods of instruction will be installed this year. Prof. Thomas L. Pollock has been busy since returning from his vacation to get affairs in shape for the opening.

With two experienced teachers in the commercial department it is generally believed the department will be a success from the beginning. Provision has been made for the commercial department at the Fifth street building, where it will be conducted until such time that the new building is ready for ocupancy.

SUPT. CRUMRINE PREPARES PROGRAM

County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine reports that he has engaged a competent line of instructors for the annual Washington county institute which will be held in the Washington High school building, December 15-19 inclusive. Dr. J. M. Coughlin,who instructed the teachers in the recent school of methods will appear before the instructors at the county institute. Other instructors are as follows; Dr. Edward Howard Gregg of New York City; Dr. Chauncey P. Colgrove of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Dr. Frank H. Green of the West Chester Normal; and Dr. P. P.Claxton, United States commissioner of education. Dr. Claxton was an instructor at Superintendent Crumrine's first institute, five years ago and has since been appointed commissioner of education.

Mr. Crumrine has already secured entertainers in reading and music for the daylight sessions of the institute and has also practically arranged for his evening entertainments.

One Man is Whole Party

Fallowfield Registration Shows Peculiar Situation--Republicans Numerous

One Bull Moose vote will be cast in Fallowfield township at the forthcoming primary. When the figures of the registration and enrollment were filed with the county commissioners at Washington, this surprising fact was shown. The Bull Moose registration means one ballot of that party for Fallowfield, and whatever the result of the vote, according to law Bull Moose candidates nominated will have to be put on the ticket at the general election.

In Fallowfield Republicans are largely in the majority. Of this party there are 114 voters registered. Of Democrats there are 93, Phohibitionists of Socialists 8 and of Washington 8.

NEW HEAD APPOINTED FOR MILL

Pittsburg Man Becomes Superintendent at Donora Plant

CHANGES ARE EFFECTED

Official announcements have been made of the filling by the United States Steel Corporation of the vacancy that has existed for several weeks in the general superintendency of the Donora Steel Works. The vacancy has existed since the death of General Superintendent E. Bayard and the announcement carried with it the appointment to the general superintendency here of J. B. Clark who has been the general superintendent of the Schoenberger works at Pittsburg.

The appointment became effective September 1 although Mr. Clark did not arrive to assume charge until September 2. His assistant will be R. G. Johnston formerly with the company at Cleveland who has been at Donora in his official capacity for some weeks. Both Mr. Clark and Mr. Johnston are thoroughly acquainted with thesteel business and are sure to prove popular and capable officials.

Together with the announcement quoted came an unofficial report of theremoval from the plant of J. F. Lewis who has been superintendent of the Newberg plant of the company in Cleveland. Nothing official was available and the identity of Mr. Lewis' sucessor is so far purely a matter of conjecture.

TELEPHONE COMPANY WINS OPENING BOUT

Monongahela Problem Disposed of By Court and Bell System Has Right to Construct and Maintain Service

One of the most important decisions that has been handed down by the Washington county court in some time is that of the case of the Bell Telephone system against the city of Monongahela an action to restrain the city from interfering with the company in the exercise of what it considers its privilege of the streets and highways of the city. The decision of the court holds that thecity has been guilty of negligence in the matter and that the company has a perfect right to the privilege of the streets.

The facts of the case are that the Bell company was granted a franchise in Monongahela in 1885 under which it has been operating since that time. In the court proceedings of a year ago in the suit of Henry Elliott vs. Monongahela, an action to restrain thec ity from entering into a contract for street lighting, the court decided that through the fact that Monongahela was an unclassified city, operating with two separate councils which held joint meetings, all matters that had been passed in joint session were illegal unless they had secured a majority of the vote of both councils.

The Bell Telephone ordinance was one of those found to be illegal and as a result the city has refused the company permission to construct any lines, poles or install phones since the decision, maintaining that if the original ordinance was illegal, th company had not any franchise in the city.

MARRIED ALLRIGHT FOR TWO WOMEN NOW CALL HIM HUSBAND

Charged with bigamy and having an educated Indian wife in South Dakota in addition to the 19-year-old wife he married in Pennsylvania Thos. Edward Evans Friday afternoon was arrested at Washington and is in jail.

Evans appeared at Washington a few weeks ago and represented himself as a wealthy ranch owner from Wagner, S. D. He frankly admitted he was in search of a wife. On his first day there he met Miss Anna Margaret Amos of Cherry avenue, an orphan. Six days later she became his wife.

Desk Sergeant George Haines of the Washington police after Evans' marriage received a report as to another wife. He wrote to Wagner and received a reply from a business man who declared Evans had an Indian wife living there. This letter exploded the theory of great wealth advanced by Evans himself who had let the impression gain ground he was worth $100,000.

Friday afternoon a telegram was received from the South Dakota woman who claims to be Evans' wife. She directed that Evans be arrested on a bigamy charge and said she would start eastward immedately. Evans was taken before Justice J. F. Carmichael, but was unable to furnish $1,000 bail, and was remanded to jail for a hearing. His bride of Washington maintains her confidence in Evans and declares she does not believe the news from South Dakota.

ANNOUNCES FOR COUNCIL

Charles A. Van Voorhis is Candidate for the Republican Nomination

Charles S. Van Voorhis, who is one of the heads of the firm of Van Voorhis and Kinder conducting the Elite garage, is today announcing formally as a candidate for the nomination for council on the Republican ticket. Mr. Van Voorhis has lived six years in Charleroi and during that time has made his influence felt as a worker for clean conditions and clean politics. He is one of the town's heavy taxpayers and owns considerable property. He is a prominent business man and a man that is regarded by his friends as one that could make the very best kind of a councilman.

WILL CONVENE IN CHARLEROI

People From All Parts of State to Attend G.U.O.O.F. Gathering Next Week

With delegates present from all parts of the state, the annual convention of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, an organization of colored members, will be opened for a three days' session in Charleroi on Monday An address of welcome will be made at that time, probably by Hiram Smith, one of the best known officers connected with the Charleroi Lodge.

Together with the Odd Fellows the sister order of the Household of Ruth will hold a convention. An elaborate program of events has been arranged for each day's session It is expected that on the final day of the convention which will be Wednesday there will be from 2,000 to 3,000 visitors here.

SHIPMENTS NOT HELD BACK BY IMPROVEMENTS

Lock No. 4 Has Busy Coal Month During August

REPORT IS GIVEN OUT

Over 16,000,000 Bushels of Coal Locl ed Down Stream ---Outside Trade Heavy

Despite the extensive improvement that is being made at Lock No. 4, the monthly shipments through the lock continue to hold up well. Improvement of the lock is well under way and is progressing satisfactorily. The old small lock has been practically torn away and the immense coffer dam for the large new lock is practically completed. There is but a small gap left in the dam through which the dredge boats have been passing but this will be closed in a short time and the work of making the dam water tight and of pumping it out will begin.

The report of the lock for the month of August shows that 16,807,000 bushels of coal passed down stream. This is an increase of 1,110,000 bushels over the month of July. There were 1,337 crafts passed down stream and 636 steamers. The lockage up stream was 627 steamers and 1,350 crafts.

The sand and gravel traffic dropped off perceptibly during August there being but 20,000 bushels of sand and 26,000 bushels of gravel passing up stream. This was due principally to the fact that the Pittsburg Steel company at Monessen has practically completed the construction of their blast furnaces for which has been consumed a large amount of sand and gravel in the months past.

The rainfall for the month recorded at the lock was very small it being but 1.17 inches or as one of the officials at thelock expressed it "not even a good rain all put together."

First School Bonds Filed

State Board of Education Invests $40,000 in Bonds For State Fund

The state board of education has just invested $40,000 in bonds as the first money to be set apart for the state school fund. This is the information that Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the state board of education gave out during his first visit to Charleroi this week.

"Pennsylvania has been one of the few states where there has been no school fund," said Mr. Becht, "but this foundation will develop into a substantial income."

"The income is to be expended for the equalization of educational advantages thoughout the commonwealth. It will be formed from escheated estates, revenue from forests and the sale of state water rights or property."

THOMAS BOY YET UNCAUGHT

Search Continues for Youth Wanted in Connection With Murder

STILL FINDING CLUES

Despite the fact that an exhaustive search has been made of a wide section of territory along lower Castile run and in thevicinity of Clarksville, where it was believed Walter Thomas the boy wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Oliver Price near Rices Landing was in hiding the case is clouded in as much mystery as on Tuesday when the body of the dead woman was found. If Walter Thomas is in hiding in the dense undergrowth and wooded section which extends over so much territory the searchers found no definite trace of him and nothing to indicate that he had been there.

A dog belonging to W. H. House, a son-in-law of the murdered woman was put on the hunt. This animal had been trained by Mr. House for a man-hunter and in this training the Thomas boy had been the person used for the work. For a year at various times the boy was accustomed to hide in out-of-the way places and this dog was put on his trail always locating him without trouble.

Thursday night about 11 o'clock this dog was taken to the posse on the N. W. Jenkin's farm where Mrs. Jenkins had seen a man skulling in the underbrush. The dog took the trail

MEETS DEATH IN THE MONONGAHELA

A young man said to have been Elmer Snyder of West Brownsville, was drowned in the river near the tipple of the Alice mines at Roscoe Wednesday. He was on a house boat that was being towed down the river by a yacht. A man who saw him fall into the river told that he was making his way along the side of the house boat when he fell into the river pulling a small ladder with him. He let go of the ladder and sank.

Before his body was recovered he had been in the water at least ten minutes. A physician was summoned to the scene of the accident and every effort made to restore the young man, but all to no purpose. It is reported that the young man was a friend of the parties on the house boat and had decided to go down the river with them and return on the train. They were all detained till the Fayette county coroner could hold an inquest. The accident happened about 1 o'clock.

THE WOODEN COACH.

Wooden passenger coaches, it is hoped, will soon be a thing of the past upon American railroads, says the New Castle Herald. The terrible wreck this week upon the New Haven has crystalized publ'c sentiment against them as has nothing else in recent years.

The railroads seem to have been busier providing steel cars for freight than for passengers thus again placing property above human life. It used to be argued that the extra fare demanded for pullman accomodation was in reality insurance against accident, but even this no longer holds good, when a heavy express crashes into them.

It is scarcely likely that steel coaches will generally replace the wooden until the greater part of the latter, now in use, are sent to the scrap pile, for the expense of making such change quickly would be enormous. But, at least, no more wooden coaches should be built and those now in use should be relegated as quickly as possible, for they have always shown themselves too fragile, when accidents occur.

REMEDY NEEDED.

Whether the fault of the man who collects garbage or the fault of the people, the smell that follows in the wake of the garbage is the same. It is bad enough at the best and awful at the worst as anybody having had occasion to pass where the garbage wagon has been will most cheerfully attest.

One evidence of an up-to-date municipality is the cleanliness that is next to godliness. Clean streets betoken a clean populace. Clean backyards betoken clean living and clean living on the whole indicates a clean bill of health.

Obviously a town or a city cannot free itself of the garbage problem. There is bound to be waste. The best it can do is to provide for caring for the waste in the best possible manner. Garbage has no peculiar quality, except that it smells bad on any occasion. Age makes it worse, not better.

Saturday it seems is collection day for garbage down town. And down town in the busy streets is where the offensiveness of the wagon and its contents is most noticed. Plainly a remedy is needed. It is not an occasion for placing blame. Blame is unimportant anyhow. If anything could be gained by having a covered wagon, why not have that, or if anything could be gained by having a new schedule of rates that would not make the daily collection of garbage in all parts of town prohibitive, why not have that.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Senator Ashhurst of Arizona, the other day discussed a fellow senator who had been sitting on the political fence with great skill for months, relates an exchange. Every one suspects his true position but no one can prove it. It reminded Ashhurst of the incident that followed the killing of Jesse James, the outlaw.

"A stranger entered the morgue," said Ashhurst, and raising his hat politely addressed the morgue keeper.

"Sir," said he, "would you do me a great favor. Will you permit me to see all that is mortal of the honorable Jesse James?"

"Sure," said the morgue keeper. He walked to the marble slab and pulled down the sheet which covered the dead robber. The stranger gazed earnestly. Then replacing his hat, he started to leave.

"One moment," said the morgue keeper. "Why did you call the dead man 'the honorable Jesse James'"

"Because," said the stranger, "I wasn't quite certain he was dead."

"You ask me what I think of night work in the public schools. I mean that work which the pupils are required to do at home after school hours. I will reply that I am strongly opposed to it" said Dr. Henry S. Colestock, of Bucknell university, who has been in Charleroi all week as one of the instructors at the Tri-District Teachers institute.

"It is wrong in every way and not only burdens the children and taxes their mental strength and thereby renders them unfit for the day sessions but it gives them time during the day to be idle and get into mischief. My theory of this question is to abolish night work in every particular and cause the children to accomplish all their work during the school hours.

"This will have a tendency to eliminate their early lack of interest in the work and will make them physically fit to accomplish their tasks, after the rest of the previous afternoon and evening.

"I have noticed that when the children are given a consignment of work to be done at night they have much time on their hands the next day. As a result they get in to trouble and then have to suffer for what was primarily the fault of the instructor in giving them tomorrow's work the night before."

STATE BOARD GOES OVER MANY PLANS

Within the comparatively short space of two years, or since the adoption of the new school code, the state board of education has gone over approximately 600 plans for new school buildings or for reconstruction of buildings in Pennsylvania. The majority of plans were for new buildings. Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the state board is authority for the statement.

The new buildings for which the plans have been considered have varied in price from $1,500 to $250,000.

CINCINNATI MINE STRIKE IS DECLARED

The miners at the Cincinnati coal mine came out on a strike on Thursday of last week. The company installed electric lights and ordered every miner to use them with the intention it is said to tax each man 5 cents a day for his light. The men refused to submit to those proceeding and came out. It was reported that they were going to work on Thursday of this week but there was not a man reported for duty and at this time it still remains a disagreement.

readily and led the searchers about two and one-half miles to the residence of Benjamin Huffman where the trail seemed to be lost. Later it was learned that a loaf of bread had been stolen from the cellar of the Huffman home.

All day Friday the search was continued, there being as high as 400 and 500 persons aiding the deputies at times. In the crowds of residents of the section attracted by the search and aiding in it were women as well as men. A remarkable interest is shown in the case and for this reason it is believed it would be impossible for the fugitive to move about in the daytime.

The section where thesearch has been conducted is ideal for a hiding place. It is rough land abounding in deep gullies and ravines and everything is overgrown with heavy brush, it would be practically impossible to locate anyone in hiding unless the searchers should accidentally stumble upon the fugitive.

Another clew came at noon Friday when Lee Yoders who is cooking for stone masons working on the Williard property near the mouth of Castile run saw a man cross the run going in the direction of Millsboro. Nothing has developed from this clew, however.

Many persons of the Rices Landing section are of the opinion that young Thomas has escaped from the community and is far from there. It is pointed out that the boy had beaten his way about the county before on freight trains and the theory advanced is that he escaped on a freight train early Tuesday morning.

As yet the county commissioners of Greene county have not offered any reward for the apprehension of Thomas. This fact in itself hascreated surprise. The only reward thus far ocered for the capture of the man suspected of the murder of wealthy Mrs. Price is the $100 put up by her son.

Word from Pittsburg is to the effect that there is no noticeable change in the condition of Bertha Fox the second victim of the murderous assault at the Price home. So far as is known publicly the child has as yet made no statement regarding the tragedy.

PROHIBS TO HOLD STATE CONVENTION

Calls are being prepared for a meeting of the Prohibition state committee to be held in Harrisburg October 3 to outline the party's work in the fall campaign and for discussion of the outlook for next year. The cold water people are naming their own county tickets and are not making any alliances, a policy which it is expected will govern in the gubernatorial fight next year.

The meeting of the state committee will bring to the city National Chairman V. G. Hinshaw of Chicago, Ill., Eugene W. Chafin, the party's presidential candidate in 1908 and 1912; Dan Polling and others prominent in the national councils of the party. State Chairman B. L. Rockwood expects a large attendance of state Prohibitionists.

It is possible that there may be a meeting of the Democratic state committee this fall, although there will be no election of a state chairman. The Democratic party through a clause in the primary bill, is expected from election of state committeemen in a number of counties. The meeting may be called to discuss rule changes and to outline fall campaign work.

Washington party men say that they do not know whether the state committee will meet in Harrisburg or not. In the 18 counties where no nominations were made the voters will write in the names of committeemen.

TOWNSHIP AND BOROUGH QUIT PARTNERSHIP

The joint school boards which existed between East Pike Run township and California borough have dissolved and each school will have its own high school. Last spring the two boards united and decided to have one four-year high school and have it in California, but dissatisfaction on the part of both boards caused a dssolution. East Pike Run township elected Miss Sarah Axtell as their principal with a competent assistant. California secured Miss Jane McKinley. Prof. Telgar is the principal for grades and high school of California. Both schools look forward to a very successful school year.

The dissolution did not take place until a week ago.

THAT ABODE OF THE PAST

"Yes, suh—here we are at that old time place!" And our dark driver drew up his little victoria gently, writes John Galsworthy in Scribner's.

Through the open doorway, into a dim cavern of ruined house, we passed. The mildew and dirt, the dark, denuded dankness of that old hostel, rotting down with damp and time!

And our guide, the tall, thin, gray haired dame, who came forward with such native ease, and moved before us, touching this fungused wall, that rusting stairway and telling, as it were, no one, in her soft, slow speech, things that any one could see—what a strange and fitting figure.

Before the smell of the deserted, oozing rooms, before that old creature leading us on and on, negligent of all our questions and talking to the air, as though we were not, we felt such discomfort that we soon made to go out again into such freshness as there was on that day of dismal heat. Then realizing, it seemed, that she was losing us, our guide turned; for the first time looking in our faces, she smiled, and said in her sweet, weak voice, like the sound from the strings of a spinnet long unplayed on: "Don' you wahnd to see the dome room, an' all the other rooms right here, of this old place?"

Again those words! We had not the hearts to disappoint her. And as we followed on and on, along the moldering corridors and rooms where the black peeling papers hung like stalactites, the dominance of our senses gradually dropped from us, and with our souls we saw its soul—the soul of this old time place; this mustering house of the old south, bereft of all but ghosts, and the gray pigeons niched in the rotting gallery round a narrow courtyard open to the sky.

"This is the dome room, suh and lady; right over the slave market it is. Here they did the business of the state—sure; see their face up there in the roof—Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Davis, Lee—there they are! All gone—now! Yes, suh!"

KEPT WARM BY ELECTRICITY

Ingenious Device Employed for Babies' Cribs in Presbyterian Hospital in New York.

In the Presbyterian hospital, New York, there is an interesting instance of the application of electricity in the nursery for the benefit of the incubator babies. Here, says the Edison Monthly the problem is to provide plenty of fresh air and at the same time sufficient warmth for the babies, and this has been solved by a simple but effective form of crib warmer.

The sides of the bassinet in which the baby lies are covered with asbestos boards and beneath is an electric heater or foot warmer, with cable couplings and switch which allows the current to be regulated. In a warm-air chamber between the bassinet and the foot-warmer is a partition, so constructed with reference to the baby's position in the crib that the heat is reflected to the lower end of the bassinet. The child's feet are thus kept warm, while a lower temperature is maintained at the head.

Beauty and Utility.

For the seventeenth time in three years the microscopic South American state has undergone a change of administration, and the new potentate, President Casper, the three hundred and second, had summoned an artist, and was ordering new designs for all the official uniforms.

"I want something striking," he declared—"something showy, even. My people are impressed by such things. I have here some sketches I made myself. Look them over, and be guided by these ideas as far as possible."

The artist examined them carefully.

They were gorgeous affairs. Green coats vied with crimson vests in brilliancy, orange-colored trousers with scarfs of Cambridge blue. All the colors of the rainbow were there.

"Ah!" he said, turning the pages. "This is evidently for the navy, this for the army, this for—this—what is this for, with the long plume on the three-cornered hat, the bright yellow dress, trimmed with purple and—"

"That," explained the president, bravely, "is for the secret police!"

When Portugal Was Great.

The announcement that Portugal is to be linked up by "wireless" with "all the Portuguese colonies" is a reminder of the vanished greatness of what was once the leading colonizing empire in the world. From Lisbon in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries went out marines through the unknown and uncharted oceans to Africa, India and the New World to the west, and planted the flag of Portugal in every corner of the globe. But in Africa alone has Portugal maintained its hold of colonies of any magnitude. In India are little bits of Portuguese territory, Nova Goa, southeast of Bombay, being the capital of all Portuguese colonies east of Cape of Good Hope; while as far east as China the island of Macao, in the Canton river, first colonized nearly 400 years ago, still owns the sovereignty of the government at Lisbon.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

A natural comedian and actor, William A. Williams, of the American Pathe players appeared on Tuesday of this week at the Palace theatre to give lectures concerning some of the pictures in which he has appeared for his company. Excellent entertainment was furnished as he described methods of preparing and presenting motion pictures. Features were numerous at the Palace during the week. On Monday night "The Man in the White Cloak," a masterful drama with awesome and thrilling incidents, showing a struggle for treasurer and almost thrilling escape from death, was shown, and on Tuesday night a feature was a two-part production of a Kalem western film, "The Fight at Grizzly Gulch." "A Prince of Evil," wherein was shown where a weakness for gambling placed a woman in the power of a rascal, and how she was saved by her sister, with love and devotion triumphant. Decorators have commenced work repainting the interior of the Palace and preparations are being made for the starting of vaudeville on Thursday, Oct. 2.

COYLE—CHARLEROI.

"United at Gettysburg," produced by union players on the original battlefield at Gettysburg during the fifteenth anniversary celebration there recently, was one of the headliners of this week's program at the Coyle. The story told was a thrilling one, made all the more picturesque and entertaining by the familiar battlefield scenes. As a companion to this on Labor Day there was run the film, "The Wage Earner," a three-reel production. "The Death Stone of India," was shown in three parts as portrayed by the Bison film company and it proved one of the most entertaining features of the week. With wild west films showing scenes of bronsho bucking in which he had appeared, a cowboy known as "Arizona Charley" appeared at the Coyle Wednesday and gave lectures of his pictures. A good program is booked for Saturday in "The Heart of a Heathen" in two reels and "Nature's Vengeance." "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is booked for appearance soon.

LYRIC—CHARLEROI.

The ruins of a large factory at Binghamton, N. Y., where 50 women and girls met death in a frightful fire, the closing events pertaining to the Glidden automobile tour, scenes of a Seattle carnival and a destructive forest fire were some of the occurrences pictured in the regular Pathe weekly shown on Wednesday of this week at the Lyric theatre. Easily the Pathe weekly was as usual a leading feature of the program. In the Glidden automobile tour picture was shown a good view of what is considered the largest hotel building in the world entirely constructed of logs. It is situated in the state of Washington. There were numerous other good pictures during the week at the Lyric. Among them was "The Widow's Kids," Biograph; "The Other Woman," Lubin and "When Society Calls," a Vitagraph. The latter was a good representation of the shams and evils of society and the benefits as well. Saturday a good picture is scheduled to be given in "The Girl and the Gangster."

PITT—PITTSBURG.

The New Pitt theatre, Penn avenue and Seventh street, Pittsburg, the home of the Pitt players with Miss Mary Hall and Robert Gleckleh, will open Saturday night for the season.

This theatre, although practically a new house has been improved by the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, the interior decorations, marvelously beautiful alone costing about $60,000. A new organ and unit orchestra, for which $30,000 has been expended, will delight Pitt patrons. A gala double bill for opening night and the week of September 8 will be Maurice Maeterlinck's modern miracle play and the musical drama, "Sister Beatrice," to be followed by Rudolph Besier's satirical comedy, "Don." William Moore Patch, managing director of the theatre, promises an unusually elaborate production of both plays. A chorus of 25 picked singers has been engaged to sing the different entract music of "Sister Beatrice." Miss Mary Hall will have the role of the repentant nun in the Maeterlinck drama, while Robert Gleckler, leading man of the Pitt players, will enact the part of Prince Bellidor. In "Don" Mr. Gleckler will play the title role, Henry Kohler's original part, while Miss Hall will be seen as Elizabeth.

FREE METHODISTS CAMPMEETINGS WILL BEGIN ON SUNDAY

Rev. A. D. Zahnizer, General Conference Evangelist to Be Here to Conduct Services and to Preach.

Rev A. D. Zahniser, general conference evangelist of the Free Methodist Church, who will assist in a Free Methodist campmeeting here next week.

Free Methodists from all along the valley will journey to Charleroi on Sunday to attend the opening of the Free Methodist camp meeting which will be held here for four weeks. Arrangements have been made to hold the services on the playgrounds in the Pines and a large tent is being erected to accommodate those who attend.

The affair is being held under the auspices of the Free Methodist church of Belle Vernon of which Rev. R. N Large is pastor and which includes in its membership a number of Charleroi people.

The meetings will be in charge of Rev. A. D. Zahniser of Pittsburg, general conference evangelist and it is expected that large crowds will be in attendance on each of the days.

CHARLEROI GETS ANOTHER PRIZE FROM MONESSEN

In the fantastic parade at Monessen as a part of the Booster week program Friday evening a Charleroi organization carried off a prize This was the Charleroi Drum corps. With every member in line and togged up "fit to kill" in clown and other kinds of ludicrous costumes, the corps made such a fantastic appearance that it got $10 as the second prize for being the most comically dressed organization. The Red Men of Belle Vernon won first prize of $15. The prize for the drum corps was thesecond thatit had won this week at Monessen, the first coming in the Marathon race, when a member won honors.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF CARROLL TWO DIRECTORS AHEAD

The school directors of Carroll township are facing a peculiar problem in which they are uncertain as to whether that district, with seven members of the school board, is entitled to the seven members or five members, in common with other townships of Washington county. When the new school code went into effect the district had sufficient population to warrant the election of seven members, and it was the only township in the county entitled to more than five.

About a year ago the borough of New Eagle was carved out of a section of the township, which reduced the population of the district, so that it was no longer entitled to the seven members. Opinions differ as to the matter. However, it is stated the school board has taken counsel and it is now their opinion that until the next census taking, which will be in the year 1920, the district will be entitled to the present number of members of the board. The members of the board are as follows: President, J. H. McCloskey; vice president, John Graham, secretary, J. T. Conlin; and H. M. Snyder, A. Heywood, Neal Boyle and L. Altenhof.

WRECK OF BOAT ALICE IS TAKEN FROM THE RIVER

The wreck of the towboat Alice was raised to the water line Friday. No additional bodies were found in the wreck. The force of the explosion carried away the entire battery of boilers. One of the boilers is accounted for having fallen on Neville Island. The others are supposed to be in the river near the place where the explosion occurred. A safety valve, supposed to be a part of the boat's equipment, has been found 1,300 feet distant on the roadway of the Coraopolis trolley line.

THIRTY ENGAGED ON COPYING WORK OF REGISTRATION

Thirty transcribers are busy in the commissioners' office copying the registry assessors' books required at the coming primaries. The force was put to work just as soon as the assessors made their returns this week. There are about 60,000 names to copy and the work must be done by next Wednesday when the ballots will be packed and sent out. The transcribing room of the commissioners' office looks like a school room.

WEDDING TODAY OCCURS AT LOCAL EPISCOPAL CHURCH

At St. Mary's Episcopal church this afternoon at 2 o'clock the wedding of Miss Matilda Rosalie Pauwels, and James Wallace Watkinson, both of Charleroi took place. The ceremony was performed by the rector of the church Rev. Lucius W. Shey, in the presence of the members of the immediate families. The couple will take a wedding trip and then will go to Denver where they will live. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pauwels and the groom is the son of Mrs. Hannah Watkinson. He is employed at the Pittsburg Stee lmill at Monessen.

COUNTY TREASURER ISSUES FIRST OF HUNTERS' LICENSES

County Treasurer S. M. Downer already has issued a number of resident hunters' licenses. These are issued under provisions of the new hunters' license law of April 17, 1913. The fee for the license is $1. In addition to the license the party securing it is furnished with a cloth-like yellow license tag, supposed to be displayed in a conspicuous place. It entitles a resident hunter to hunt anywhere in the commonwealth but not in violation of any hunting laws. A hunter applying for a license must give his name, height, color of hair, residence, complexion and color of eyes. The license is not transferable. The license tag furnished the hunter has on it the number of the license and the number of the county where issued. Washington county is No. 63.

TEACHERS READY FOR STARTING OF SCHOOL

Bell to Ring Monday Summoning Children Back to Work

MANY ENROLL TODAY

Crowded Conditions Will be Order Until New School is Finished

Summoning children from their summer's vacation, the school bell will toll Monday morning, and the grind of school work will be taken up. All the teachers are here and are prepared for the opening of school.

Somewhat enthusiastic following the week's teachers' institute the breaking into the arduous school duty will not be such a wearisome task to the teachers as it usually is. They plan to put into operation at once new ideas gained during the institution.

Today was enrollment day for beginners at the various buildings and a number of new pupils were enrolled to take up their work on Monday. Principals received the beginners at their offices. Prof. S. R. Grim, principal of high school was at the high school building to receive new pupils for high school.

Temporarily there will exist a crowded condition in the schools. Upon the completion of the new school building on Crest avenue and Sixth street, and the removal of high school and the eighth grade, now known as the junior high school to this structure the overcrowded condition will be remedied. A number of innovations in methods of instruction will be installed this year. Prof. Thomas L. Pollock has been busy since returning from his vacation to get affairs in shape for the opening.

With two experienced teachers in the commercial department it is generally believed the department will be a success from the beginning. Provision has been made for the commercial department at the Fifth street building, where it will be conducted until such time that the new building is ready for ocupancy.

SUPT. CRUMRINE PREPARES PROGRAM

County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine reports that he has engaged a competent line of instructors for the annual Washington county institute which will be held in the Washington High school building, December 15-19 inclusive. Dr. J. M. Coughlin, who instructed the teachers in the recent school of methods will appear before the instructors at the county institute. Other instructors are as follows; Dr. Edward Howard Gregg of New York City; Dr. Chauncey P. Colgrove of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Dr. Frank H. Green of the West Chester Normal; and Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education. Dr. Claxton was an instructor at Superintendent Crumrine's first institute, five years ago and has since been appointed commissioner of education.

Mr. Crumrine has already secured entertainers in reading and music for the daylight sessions of the institute and has also practically arranged for his evening entertainments.

One Man is Whole Party

Fallowfield Registration Shows Peculiar Situation--Republicans Numerous

One Bull Moose vote will be cast in Fallowfield township at the forthcoming primary. When the figures of the registration and enrollment were filed with the county commissioners at Washington, this surprising fact was shown. The Bull Moose registration means one ballot of that party for Fallowfield, and whatever the result of the vote, according to law Bull Moose candidates nominated will have to be put on the ticket at the general election.

In Fallowfield Republicans are largely in the majority. Of this party there are 114 voters registered. Of Democrats there are 93, Phohibitionists of Socialists 8 and of Washington 8.

NEW HEAD APPOINTED FOR MILL

CHANGES ARE EFFECTED

Official announcements have been made of the filling by the United States Steel Corporation of the vacancy that has existed for several weeks in the general superintendency of the Donora Steel Works. The vacancy has existed since the death of General Superintendent E. Bayard and the announcement carried with it the appointment to the general superintendency here of J. B. Clark who has been the general superintendent of the Schoenberger works at Pittsburg.

The appointment became effective September 1 although Mr. Clark did not arrive to assume charge until September 2. His assistant will be R. G. Johnston formerly with the company at Cleveland who has been at Donora in his official capacity for some weeks. Both Mr. Clark and Mr. Johnston are thoroughly acquainted with thesteel business and are sure to prove popular and capable officials.

Together with the announcement quoted came an unofficial report of theremoval from the plant of J. F. Lewis who has been superintendent of the Newberg plant of the company in Cleveland. Nothing official was available and the identity of Mr. Lewis' sucessor is so far purely a matter of conjecture.

TELEPHONE COMPANY WINS OPENING BOUT

Monongahela Problem Disposed of By Court and Bell System Has Right to Construct and Maintain Service

One of the most important decisions that has been handed down by the Washington county court in some time is that of the case of the Bell Telephone system against the city of Monongahela an action to restrain the city from interfering with the company in the exercise of what it considers its privilege of the streets and highways of the city. The decision of the court holds that thecity has been guilty of negligence in the matter and that the company has a perfect right to the privilege of the streets.

The facts of the case are that the Bell company was granted a franchise in Monongahela in 1885 under which it has been operating since that time. In the court proceedings of a year ago in the suit of Henry Elliott vs. Monongahela, an action to restrain thec ity from entering into a contract for street lighting, the court decided that through the fact that Monongahela was an unclassified city, operating with two separate councils which held joint meetings, all matters that had been passed in joint session were illegal unless they had secured a majority of the vote of both councils.

The Bell Telephone ordinance was one of those found to be illegal and as a result the city has refused the company permission to construct any lines, poles or install phones since the decision, maintaining that if the original ordinance was illegal, th company had not any franchise in the city.

MARRIED ALLRIGHT FOR TWO WOMEN NOW CALL HIM HUSBAND

Charged with bigamy and having an educated Indian wife in South Dakota in addition to the 19-year-old wife he married in Pennsylvania Thos. Edward Evans Friday afternoon was arrested at Washington and is in jail.

Evans appeared at Washington a few weeks ago and represented himself as a wealthy ranch owner from Wagner, S. D. He frankly admitted he was in search of a wife. On his first day there he met Miss Anna Margaret Amos of Cherry avenue, an orphan. Six days later she became his wife.

Desk Sergeant George Haines of the Washington police after Evans' marriage received a report as to another wife. He wrote to Wagner and received a reply from a business man who declared Evans had an Indian wife living there. This letter exploded the theory of great wealth advanced by Evans himself who had let the impression gain ground he was worth $100,000.

Friday afternoon a telegram was received from the South Dakota woman who claims to be Evans' wife. She directed that Evans be arrested on a bigamy charge and said she would start eastward immedately. Evans was taken before Justice J. F. Carmichael, but was unable to furnish $1,000 bail, and was remanded to jail for a hearing. His bride of Washington maintains her confidence in Evans and declares she does not believe the news from South Dakota.

ANNOUNCES FOR COUNCIL

Charles A. Van Voorhis is Candidate for the Republican Nomination

Charles S. Van Voorhis, who is one of the heads of the firm of Van Voorhis and Kinder conducting the Elite garage, is today announcing formally as a candidate for the nomination for council on the Republican ticket. Mr. Van Voorhis has lived six years in Charleroi and during that time has made his influence felt as a worker for clean conditions and clean politics. He is one of the town's heavy taxpayers and owns considerable property. He is a prominent business man and a man that is regarded by his friends as one that could make the very best kind of a councilman.

WILL CONVENE IN CHARLEROI

People From All Parts of State to Attend G.U.O.O.F. Gathering Next Week

With delegates present from all parts of the state, the annual convention of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, an organization of colored members, will be opened for a three days' session in Charleroi on Monday. An address of welcome will be made at that time, probably by Hiram Smith, one of the best known officers connected with the Charleroi Lodge.

Together with the Odd Fellows the sister order of the Household of Ruth will hold a convention. An elaborate program of events has been arranged for each day's session. It is expected that on the final day of the convention which will be Wednesday there will be from 2,000 to 3,000 visitors here.

State Board of Education Invests $40,000 in Bonds For State Fund

The state board of education has just invested $40,000 in bonds as the first money to be set apart for the state school fund. This is the information that Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the state board of education gave out during his first visit to Charleroi this week.

"Pennsylvania has been one of the few states where there has been no school fund," said Mr. Becht, "but this foundation will develop into a substantial income."

"The income is to be expended for the equalization of educational advantages thoughout the commonwealth. It will be formed from escheated estates, revenue from forests and the sale of state water rights or property."

THOMAS BOY YET UNCAUGHT

Search Continues for Youth Wanted in Connection With Murder

STILL FINDING CLUES

Despite the fact that an exhaustive search has been made of a wide section of territory along lower Castile run and in thevicinity of Clarksville, where it was believed Walter Thomas the boy wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Oliver Price near Rices Landing was in hiding the case is clouded in as much mystery as on Tuesday when the body of the dead woman was found. If Walter Thomas is in hiding in the dense undergrowth and wooded section which extends over so much territory the searchers found no definite trace of him and nothing to indicate that he had been there.

A dog belonging to W. H. House, a son-in-law of the murdered woman was put on the hunt. This animal had been trained by Mr. House for a man-hunter and in this training the Thomas boy had been the person used for the work. For a year at various times the boy was accustomed to hide in out-of-the way places and this dog was put on his trail always locating him without trouble.

Thursday night about 11 o'clock this dog was taken to the posse on the N. W. Jenkin's farm where Mrs. Jenkins had seen a man skulling in the underbrush. The dog took the trail

Lock No. 4 Has Busy Coal Month During August

REPORT IS GIVEN OUT

Over 16,000,000 Bushels of Coal Locked Down Stream ---Outside Trade Heavy

Despite the extensive improvement that is being made at Lock No. 4, the monthly shipments through the lock continue to hold up well. Improvement of the lock is well under way and is progressing satisfactorily. The old small lock has been practically torn away and the immense coffer dam for the large new lock is practically completed. There is but a small gap left in the dam through which the dredge boats have been passing but this will be closed in a short time and the work of making the dam water tight and of pumping it out will begin.

The report of the lock for the month of August shows that 16,807,000 bushels of coal passed down stream. This is an increase of 1,110,000 bushels over the month of July. There were 1,337 crafts passed down stream and 636 steamers. The lockage up stream was 627 steamers and 1,359 crafts.

The sand and gravel traffic dropped off perceptibly during August there being but 20,000 bushels of sand and 26,000 bushels of gravel passing up stream. This was due principally to the fact that the Pittsburg Steel company at Monessen has practically completed the construction of their blast furnaces for which has been consumed a large amount of sand and gravel in the months past.

The rainfall for the month recorded at the lock was very small it being but 1.17 inches or as one of the officials at the lock expressed it "not even a good rain all put together."

MEETS DEATH IN THE MONONGAHELA

A young man said to have been Elmer Snyder of West Brownsville, was drowned in the river near the tipple of the Alice mines at Roscoe Wednesday. He was on a house boat that was being towed down the river by a yacht. A man who saw him fall into the river told that he was making his way along the side of the house boat when he fell into the river pulling a small ladder with him. He let go of the ladder and sank.

Before his body was recovered he had been in the water at least ten minutes. A physician was summoned to the scene of the accident and every effort made to restore the young man, but all to no purpose. It is reported that the young man was a friend of the parties on the house boat and had decided to go down the river with them and return on the train. They were all detained till the Fayette county coroner could hold an inquest. The accident happened about 1 o'clock.

THE WOODEN COACH.

Wooden passenger coaches, it is hoped, will soon be a thing of the past upon American railroads, says the New Castle Herald The terrible wreck this week upon the New Haven has crystalized public sentiment against them as has nothing else in recent years.

The railroads seem to have been busier providing steel cars for freight than for passengers thus again placing property above human life. It used to be argued that the extra fare demanded for pullman accomodation was in reality insurance against accident, but even this no longer holds good, when a heavy express crashes into them.

It is scarcely likely that steel coaches will generally replace the wooden until the greater part of the latter, now in use, are sent to the scrap pile, for the expense of making such change quickly would be enormous. But, at least, no more wooden coaches should be built and those now in use should be relegated as quickly as possible, for they have always shown themselves too fragile, when accidents occur

REMEDY NEEDED.

Whether the fault of the man who collects garbage or the fault of the people, the smell that follows in the wake of the garbage is the same. It is bad enough at the best and awful at the worst as anybody having had occasion to pass where the garbage wagon has been will most cheerfully attest.

One evidence of an up-to-date municipality is the cleanliness that is next to godliness. Clean streets betoken a clean populace. Clean backyards betoken clean living and clean living on the whole indicates a clean bill of health.

Obviously a town or a city cannot free itself of the garbage problem There is bound to be waste The best it can do is to provide for caring for the waste in the best possible manner Garbage has no peculiar quality, except that it smells bad on any occasion. Age makes it worse, not better.

Saturday it seems is collection day for garbage down town. And down town in the busy streets is where the offensiveness of the wagon and its contents is most noticed. Plainly a remedy is needed It is not an occasion for placing blame Blame is unimportant anyhow. If anything could be gained by having a covered wagon, why not have that, or if anything could be gained by having a [illegible] make the daily collection of garbage in all parts of town prohibitive, why not have that

Senator Ashhurst of Arizona, the other day discussed a fellow senator who had been sitting on the political fence with great skill for months, relates an exchange Every one suspects his true position but no one can prove it It reminded Ashhurst of incident that followed the killing of Jesse James, the outlaw.

"A stranger entered the morgue" said Ashhurst, and raising his hat politely addressed the morgue keeper

"Sir," said he, "would you do me a great favor Will you permit me to see all that is mortal of the honorable Jesse James?'

"Sure," said the morgue keeper He walked to the marble slab and pulled down the sheet which covered the dead robber The stranger gazed [illegible]. Then replacing his hat, he started to leave

"One moment," said the morgue keeper "Why did you call the dead man 'the honorable Jesse James'"

"Because," said the stranger, "I wasn't quite certain he was dead"

"You ask me what I think of night work in the public schools I mean that work which the pupils are required to do at home after school hours I will reply that I am strongly opposed to it" said Dr. Henry S Colestock, of Bucknell university, who has been in Charleroi all week as one of the instructors at the Tri-District Teachers institute

"It is wrong in every way, and not only burdens the children and taxes their mental strength and thereby renders them unfit for the day sessions but it gives them time during the day to be idle and get into mischief My theory of the question is to abolish night work in every particular and cause the children to accomplish all their work during the school hours.

"This will have a tendency to eliminate their early lack of interest in the work and will make them physically fit to accomplish their tasks, after the rest of the previous afternoon and evening.

"I have noticed that when the children are given a consignment of work to be done at night they have much time on their hands the next day. As a result they get in to trouble and then have to suffer for what was primarily the fault of the instructor in giving them tomorrow's work the night before."

STATE BOARD GOES OVER MANY PLANS

Within the comparatively short space of two years, or since the adoption of the new school code, the state board of education has gone over approximately 600 plans for new school buildings or for reconstruction of buildings in Pennsylvania The majority of plans were for new buildings Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the state board is authority for the statement

The new buildings for which the plans have been considered have varied in price from $1,500 to $250,000.

CINCINNATI MINE STRIKE IS DECLARED

The miners at the Cincinnati coal mine came out on a strike on Thursday of last week The company installed electric lights and ordered every miner to use them with the intention it is said to tax each man 5 cents a day for his light. The men refused to submit to those proceedings and came out It was reported that they were going to work on Thursday of this week but there was not a man reported for duty and at the time of writing remains a disagreement readily and led the searchers about two and one-half miles to the residence of Benjamin Huffman where the trail seemed to be lost. Later it was learned that a loaf of bread had been stolen from the cellar of the Huffman home.

All day Friday the search was continued, there being as high as 400 and 500 persons aiding the deputies at times In the crowds of residents of the section attracted by the search and aiding in it were women as well as men A remarkable interest is shown in the case and for this reason it is believed it would be impossible for the fugitive to move about in the daytime.

The section where thesearch has been conducted is ideal for a hiding place. It is rough land abounding in deep gullies and ravines and everything is overgrown with heavy brush, it would be practically impossible to locate anyone in hiding unless the searchers should accidentally stumble upon the fugitive

Another clew came at noon Friday when Lee Yoders who is cooking for stone masons working on the Williard property near the mouth of Castle run saw a man cross the run going in the direction of Millsboro Nothing has developed from this clew, however.

Many persons of the Rices Landing section are of the opinion that young Thomas has escaped from the community and is far from there. It is pointed out that the boy had beaten his way about the county before on freight trains and the theory advanced is that he escaped on a freight train early Tuesday morning.

As yet the county commissioners of Greene county have not offered any reward for the apprehension of Thomas. This fact in itself hascreated surprise. The only reward thus far ocered for the capture of the man suspected of the murder of wealthy Mrs. Price is the $100 put up by her son.

Word from Pittsburg is to the effect that there is no noticeable change in the condition of Bertha Fox the second victim of the murderous assault at the Price home. So far as is known publicly the child has not [illegible] yet made no statement regarding the tragedy.

PROHIBS TO HOLD STATE CONVENTION

Calls are being prepared for a meeting of the Prohibition state committee to be held in Harrisburg October 3 to outline the party's work in the fall campaign and for discussion of the outlook for next year The cold water people are running their own county tickets and are not making any alliances, a policy which it is expected will govern in the gubernatorial fight next year

The meeting of the state committee will bring to the city National Chairman V. G. Hinshaw of Chicago, Ill., Eugene W Chafin, the party's presidential candidate in 1908 and 1912, Dan Poling and others prominent in the national councils of the party. State Chairman B L Rockwood expects a large attendance of state Prohibitionists

It is possible that there may be a meeting of the Democratic state committee this fall, although there will be no election of a state chairman The Democratic party through a clause in the primary bill, is expected from election of state committeemen in a number of counties The meeting may be called to discuss rule changes and to outline fall campaign work

Washington party men say that they do not know whether the state committee will meet in Harrisburg or not In the 18 counties where no nominations were made the voters will write in the names of committeemen

"Yes, suh—here we are at that old time place!" And our dark driver drew up his little victoria gently, writes John Galsworthy in Scribner's.

Through the open doorway, into a dim cavern of ruined house, we passed. The mildew and dirt, the dark, denuded dankness of that old hostel, rotting down with damp and time!

And our guide, the tall, thin, gray haired dame, who came forward with such native ease, and moved before us, touching this fungused wall, that rusting stairway and telling, as it were, no one, in her soft, slow speech, things that any one could see—what a strange and fitting figure.

Before the smell of the deserted, oozing rooms, before that old creature leading us on and on, negligent of all our questions and talking to the air, as though we were not, we felt such discomfort that we soon made to go out again into such freshness as there was on that day of dismal heat. Then realizing, it seemed, that she was losing us, our guide turned; for the first time looking in our faces, she smiled, and said in her sweet, weak voice, like the sound from the strings of a spinnet long unplayed on: "Don' you wahnd to see the dome room, an' all the other rooms right here, of this old place?"

Again those words! We had not the hearts to disappoint her. And as we followed on and on, along the moldering corridors and rooms where the black peeling papers hung like stalactites, the dominance of our senses gradually dropped from us, and with our souls we saw its soul—the soul of this old time place; this mustering house of the old south, bereft of all but ghosts, and the gray pigeons niched in the rotting gallery round a narrow courtyard open to the sky.

"This is the dome room, suh and lady; right over the slave market it is. Here they did the business of the state—sure; see their face up there in the roof—Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Davis, Lee—there they are! All gone—now! Yes, suh!"

KEPT WARM BY ELECTRICITY

Ingenious Device Employed for Babies' Cribs in Presbyterian Hospital in New York.

In the Presbyterian hospital, New York, there is an interesting instance of the application of electricity in the nursery for the benefit of the incubator babies. Here, says the Edison Monthly the problem is to provide plenty of fresh air and at the same time sufficient warmth for the babies, and this has been solved by a simple but effective form of crib warmer.

The sides of the bassinet in which the baby lies are covered with asbestos boards and beneath is an electric heater or foot warmer, with cable couplings and switch which allows the current to be regulated. In a warm-air chamber between the bassinet and the foot-warmer is a partition, so constructed with reference to the baby's position in the crib that the heat is reflected to the lower end of the bassinet. The child's feet are thus kept warm, while a lower temperature is maintained at the head.

Beauty and Utility.

For the seventeenth time in three years the microscopic South American state has undergone a change of administration, and the new potentate, President Casper, the three hundred and second, had summoned an artist, and was ordering new designs for all the official uniforms.

"I want something striking," he declared—"something showy, even. My people are impressed by such things. I have here some sketches I made myself. Look them over, and be guided by these ideas as far as possible."

The artist examined them carefully.

They were gorgeous affairs. Green coats vied with crimson vests in brilliancy, orange-colored trousers with scarfs of Cambridge blue. All the colors of the rainbow were there.

"Ah!" he said, turning the pages. "This is evidently for the navy, this for the army, this for—this—what is this for, with the long plume on the three-cornered hat, the bright yellow dress, trimmed with purple and—"

"That," explained the president, bravely, "is for the secret police!"

When Portugal Was Great.

The announcement that Portugal is to be linked up by "wireless" with "all the Portuguese colonies" is a reminder of the vanished greatness of what was once the leading colonizing empire in the world. From Lisbon in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries went out marines through the unknown and uncharted oceans to Africa, India and the New World to the west, and planted the flag of Portugal in every corner of the globe. But in Africa alone has Portugal maintained its hold of colonies of any magnitude. In India are little bits of Portuguese territory, Nova Goa, southeast of Bombay, being the capital of all Portuguese colonies east of Cape of Good Hope; while as far east as China the island of Macao, in the Canton river, first colonized nearly 400 years ago, still owns the sovereignty of the government at Lisbon.

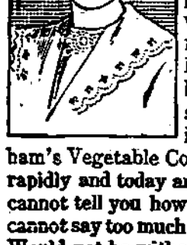
WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Charles S. Van Voorhis

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.



Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

A natural comedian and actor, William A. Williams, of the American Pathe players appeared on Tuesday of this week at the Palace theatre to give lectures concerning some of the pictures in which he has appeared for his company. Excellent entertainment was furnished as he described methods of preparing and presenting motion pictures. Features were numerous at the Palace during the week. On Monday night "The Man in the White Cloak," a masterful drama with awesome and thrilling incidents, showing a struggle for treasurer and amost thrilling escape from death, was shown, and on Tuesday night a feature was a two-part production of a Kalem western film, "The Fight at Grizzly Gulch." "A Prince of Evil," wherein was shown where a weakness for gambling placed a woman in the power of a rascal, and how she was rescued by her sister, with love and devotion triumphant. Decorators have commenced work repainting the interior of the Palace and preparations are being made for the starting of vaudeville on Thursday, Oct. 2.

COYLE—CHARLEROI.

"United at Gettysburg," produced by union players on the original battlefield at Gettysburg during the fifteenth anniversary celebration there recently, was one of the headliners of this week's program at the Coyle. The story told was a thrilling one, made all the more picturesque and entertaining by the familiar battlefield scenes. As a companion to this on Labor Day there was run the film "The Wage Earner," a three-reel production. "The Death Stone of India," was shown in three parts as portrayed by the Bison film company and it proved one of the most entertaining features of the week. With wild west films showing scenes of broncho bucking in which he had appeared, a cowboy known as "Arizona Charley" appeared at the Coyle Wednesday and gave lectures of his pictures. A good program is booked for Saturday in "The Heart of a Heathen" in two reels and "Nature's Vengeance." "Uncle Tom's Cabin i s booked for appearance soon.

LYRIC—CHARLEROI.

The ruins of a large factory at Binghamton, N. Y., where 50 women and girls met death in a frightful fire, the closing events pertaining to the Glidden automobile tour, scenes of a Seattle carnival and a destructive forest fire were some of the occurrences pictured in the regular Pathe weekly shown on Wednesday of this week at the Lyric theatre. Easily the Pathe weekly was as usual a leading feature of the program. In the Glidden automobile tour picture was shown agood view of what is considered the largest hotel building in the world entirely constructed of logs. It is situated in the state of Washington. There were numerous other good pictures during the week at the Lyric. Among them was "The Widow's Kids," Biograph; "The Other Woman," Lubin and "When Society Calls," a Vitagraph. The latter was a good representation of the shams and evils of society and the benefits as well. Saturday a good picture is scheduled to be given in "The Girl and the Gangster."

PITT—PITTSBURG.

The New Pitt theatre, Penn avenue and Seventh street, Pittsburg, the home of the Pitt players with Miss Mary Hall and Robert Gleckleh, will open Saturday night for the season.

This theatre, although practically a new house has been improved by the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, the interior decorations, marvelously beautiful alone costing about $60,000. A new organ and unit orchestra, for which $30,000 has been expended, will delight Pitt patrons. A gala double bill for opening night and the week of September 8 will be Maurice Maeterlinck's modern miracle play and the musical drama, "Sister Beatrice," to be followed by Rudolph Besier's satirical comedy, "Don." William Moore Patch, managing director of the theatre, promises an unusually elaborate production of both plays. A chorus of 25 picked singers has been engaged to sing the different entract music of "Sister Beatrice." Miss Mary Hall will have the role of the repentant nun in the Maeterlinck drama, while Robert Gleckler, leading man of the Pitt players, will enact the part of Prince Bellidor. In "Don" Mr. Gleckler will play the title role, Henry Kohler's original part, while Miss Hall will be seen as Elizabeth.

FREE METHODISTS CAMPMEETINGS WILL BEGIN ON SUNDAY

Rev. A. D. Zahnizer, General Conference Evangelist to Be Here to Conduct Services and to Preach.

Rev A. D. Zahniser, general conference evangelist of the Free Methodist Church, who will assist in a Free Methodist campmeeting here next week.

Free Methodists from all along the valley will journey to Charleroi on Sunday to attend the opening of the Free Methodist camp meeting which will be held here for four weeks. Arrangements have been made to hold the services on the playgrounds in the Pines and a large tent is being erected to accommodate those who attend.

The affair is being held under the auspices of the Free Methodist church of Belle Vernon of which Rev. R. N. Large is pastor and which includes in its membership a number of Charleroi people.

The meetings will be in charge of Rev. A. D. Zahniser of Pittsburg, general conference evangelist and it is expected that large crowds will be in attendance on each of the days.

CHARLEROI GETS ANOTHER PRIZE FROM MONESSEN

In the fantastic parade at Monessen as a part of the Booster week program Friday evening a Charleroi organization carried off a prize. This was the Charleroi Drum corps. With every member in line and togged up "fit to kill" in clown and other kinds of ludicrous costumes, the corps made such a fantastic appearance that it got $10 as the second prize for being the most comically dressed organization. The Red Men of Belle Vernon won first prize of $15. The prize for the drum corps was thesecond thatit had won this week at Monessen, the first coming in the Marathon race, when a member won honors.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF CARROLL TWO DIRECTORS AHEAD

The school directors of Carroll township are facing a peculiar problem in which they are uncertain as to whether that district, with seven members of the school board, is entitled to the seven members or five members, in common with other townships of Washington county. When the new school code went into effect the district had sufficient population to warrant the election of seven members, and it was the only township in the county entitled to more than five.

About a year ago the borough of New Eagle was carved out of a section of the township, which reduced the population of the district, so that it was no longer entitled to the seven members. Opinions differ as to the matter. However, it is stated the school board has taken counsel and it is now their opinion that until the next census taking, which will be in the year 1920, the district will be entitled to the present number of members of the board. The members of the board are as follows: President, J. H. McCloskey; vice president, John Graham, secretary, J. T. Conlin; and H. M. Snyder, A. Heywood, Neal Boyle and L. Altenhof.

WRECK OF BOAT ALICE IS TAKEN FROM THE RIVER

The wreck of the towboat Alice was raised to the water line Friday. No additional bodies were found in the wreck. The force of the explosion carried away the entire battery of boilers. One of the boilers is accounted for having fallen on Neville Island. The others are supposed to be in the river near the place where the explosion occurred. A safety valve, supposed to be a part of the boat's equipment, has been found 1,300 feet distant on the roadway of the Coraopolis trolley line.

THIRTY ENGAGED ON COPYING WORK OF REGISTRATION

Thirty transcribers are busy in the commissioners' office copying the registry assessors' books required at the coming primaries. The force was put to work just as soon as the assessors made their returns this week. There are about 60,000 names to copy and the work must be done by next Wednesday when the ballots will be packed and sent out. The transcribing room of the commissioners' office looks like a school room.

WEDDING TODAY OCCURS AT LOCAL EPISCOPAL CHURCH

At St. Mary's Episcopal church this afternoon at 2 o'clock the wedding of Miss Matilda Rosalie Pauwels, and James Wallace Watkinson, both of Charleroi took place. The ceremony was performed by the rector of the church Rev. Lucius W. Shey, in the presence of the members of the immediate families. The couple will take a wedding trip and then will go to Denver where they will live. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pauwels and the groom is the son of Mrs. Hannah Watkinson. He is employed at the Pittsburg Steel mill at Monessen.

COUNTY TREASURER ISSUES FIRST OF HUNTERS' LICENSES

County Treasurer S. M. Downer already has issued a number of resident hunters' licenses. These are issued under provisions of the new hunters' license law of April 17, 1913. The fee for the license is $1. In addition to the license the party securing it is furnished with a cloth-like yellow license tag, supposed to be displayed in a conspicuous place. It entitles a resident hunter to hunt anywhere in the commonwealth but not in violation of any hunting laws. A hunter applying for a license must give his name, height, color of hair, residence, complexion and color of eyes. The license is not transferable. The license tag furnished the hunter has on it the number of the license and the number of the county where issued. Washington county is No. 63.

Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Shey have returned home from a month's sojourn along Long Island Sound, Conn. During the vacation Mrs. Shey visited the famous Mrs. Fannie Crosby, the writer of 800 hymns who is known the world over. Enroute home Rev. and Mrs. Shey visited with Dr. and Mrs. Harrison A. Greaves in Philadelphia.

Reward.

$5.00 will be paid for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who removed illegally or stole the curbstone approach to my garage on McKean avenue.
